Gagnon Can Service All Your Refractory And Insulation Needs.

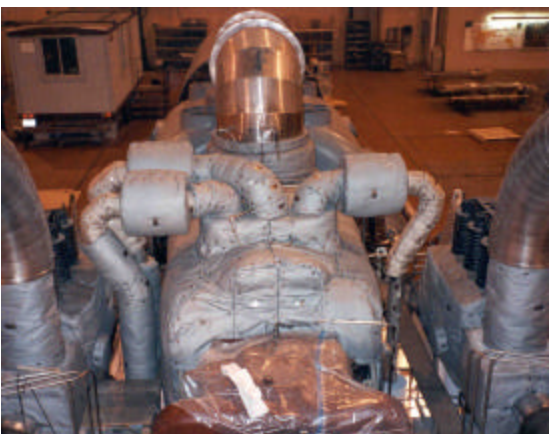

Since the 1930's Gagnon has been supplying refractory support for industrial processes throughout the United States. Gagnon designs, installs and maintains high temperature refractory and corrosion resistant linings. We emphasize service, safety, and quality work on every job. Our craftsmen are experienced in all types of refractory applications. Gagnon has provided high quality, reliable refractory installations throughout the United States.

With the addition of our insulation division in the 1980's, we expanded our design, installation and maintenance capabilities to include thermal insulation systems. We provide commercial and industrial applications and services for both hot and cold systems. Similar to the reputation that built our refractory division, our emphasis is on service, safety, and quality work on every job. With our refractory and insulation divisions, Gagnon is able to provide a more economical solution to multi-tier subcontracts.

Gagnon can provide competitive quality products from various refractory and insulation manufactures.
